Ariel's regulatory database covers international chemical regulatory requirements in North America, Europe, Latin America and Asia-Pacific. Its European office in Copenhagen will become 3E's first direct presence abroad. Ariel also provides quality research data and services for global environmental, health and safety management.

Eastman manufactures and markets plastics, fibers and chemicals. The company has about 12,000 employees and had 2003 sales of $5.8 billion.

3E also provides emergency response services for environmental, health and safety managers at over 75,000 customer sites around the world.

3E, a hazardous materials information management company, bought Ariel from Eastman Chemical Co. (NYSE:EMN) of Kingsport, Tenn.

3E's acquisition of Ariel is part of its global expansion.
