

C&L Inventory Notification Services

Ensure Classification & Labelling Notification requirements under the European CLP (Classification, Labelling & Packaging) Regulation are met

Overview

Does your company possess the necessary and available expert resources required to research, understand and implement new processes that will ensure compliance with emerging regulations? Even if your staff has the knowledge and expertise, is submitting reports and filling out forms the best use of their time? Why not outsource these activities to a team of regulatory experts that is intimately familiar with these emerging requirements? 3E Company's team has been performing GHS (Globally Harmonized System) classifications everyday since 2006 when GHS became a requirement in Japan. The team has the knowledge and experience of interpreting and applying complex rules as appropriate.

The Requirement

3E Company's C&L Services assist manufacturers and importers with CLP classification and subsequent ECHA (European Chemicals Agency) notification under the European Union's CLP Regulation. The CLP classification of any hazardous substance that is placed on the European market, either as a pure substance or as part of a mixture and regardless of tonnage, must be reported to ECHA by each manufacturer or importer no later than 3 January, 2011 with a variety of data points, including:

- The identity of the company or companies submitting this notification;
- The substance identity;
- The classification of the substance according to CLP;
- The reason why a particular classification is not provided;
- Specific concentration limits or M-factors related to the classification for acute aquatic toxicity, together with a justification for their use; and

EH&S Challenges

With the spotlight shining brightly on EH&S compliance, companies are challenged with finding effective ways to address the complexities and intricacies of EH&S compliance management. Not only do these challenges stem from a constantly-changing regulatory landscape, but also from a scarcity of newcomers to the EH&S field, and pressure on EH&S departments to manage increased responsibility with fewer resources. Addressing these issues requires broad and deep domain expertise—expertise that doesn't always exist within the company. And if it does, this expertise is probably best utilized driving the company's overall compliance strategy, not bogged down with paperwork or the administrative burdens associated with maintaining compliance.
